

Chevonne Alston received her PhD in 2020 from the University of Mississippi's Patterson School of Accountancy. She was excited to receive the Outstanding Dissertation award from the AAA GNP section at the 2021 annual meeting. She is currently working as an Assistant Professor at Governors State University.

Chevonne earned her MBA from Florida Agricultural & Mechanical University's School of Business & Industry 5 year MBA program. She was a student worker in the Controller's Office throughout her program. After graduation, she was hired as an Accounting Coordinator. Chevonne returned home and worked for PriceWaterhouseCoopers. She later worked for Odell Hicks & Company where she had the opportunity to work on the Audit for the City of Chicago along with small non-profit organizations.

Chevonne is a Certified Fraud Examiner and an Illinois CPA. Her research interests include education issues and GNP topics. Chevonne is a member of the AICPA, ILCPAS, and the National Society of Black CPAs.